CHICAGO, ILLINOIS October 28, 1904.

Mr. Ernesto Cesaro,
Naples, Italy.

Dear Sir:

We beg to hand you herewith a descriptive circular of our new book entitled "Lectures on the Calculus of Variations," by Professor Oskar Bolza. We assume that a systematic work of this character cannot be without interest for all students of higher mathematics, and that you desire to have this book accessible to you for use and consultation either in your own or in some learned library near at hand. We shall be glad to have your order on the enclosed order blank and if you think that the library of your institution or the public library of your city would be likely to purchase this book on your recommendation we shall be grateful for the suggestion upon the order blank. If you prefer, the book may be obtained from William Wesley & Son, 28 Essex Street, London, England, or from Otto Harrassowitz, 14 Querstrasse, Leipzig, Germany.

Trusting that we may be favored with an early reply,
we remain,

Very truly yours,

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS.
