Dear Sir. I do not know which instrument maker has made my "quidam", though I believe several persons have had them made. * If I had occasion myself, to get one made in England, I sh<sup>d</sup> apply either to the "Cambridge Scientific" Company, Cambridge, or to "Messrs Baker 244, High Holborn, London, W.C."
But I should think you c<sup>d</sup> get it well done under your own eye in Naples. Be sure to use well seasoned wood, to have some <sup>metal</sup> guide to ensure the verticality of the needles, and their exact height, and strut glass for the front.

Y<sup>rs</sup> faithfully

Francis Galton

* Mine was made for me many years ago by the man who made it ~~idea~~
